

The Solen

Your calm above it all.

Light. Calm. Function.

A prairie sunrise with Nordic soul. The Solen is a home shaped by light — and by the spaces between. Its name, meaning “the sun” in Scandinavian languages, reflects more than just brightness; it reflects clarity, rhythm, and warmth.

The Solen has found new ground on the open prairies, where skies stretch endlessly and the pace of life slows to meet the horizon. Now reimaged for lake-living. This home draws in the golden hours of morning and the stillness of long evenings.

Large windows frame shifting skies. Open, flowing interiors allow light to travel unbroken. Natural materials — soft woods, smooth stone, and texture — ground the space with an earthy elegance that feels both modern and enduring. The two-storey layout offers elevated views while keeping every room connected to the calm of the land.

But, The Solen is more than a home of beauty. It is a home of rhythm.

A daily reminder to rise with intention, to pause with presence, and to live in harmony with your surroundings. Near the lake’s edge and beneath the vast prairie skies, The Solen offers a life warmed by light and led by design.
